This Spring help us celebrate the launch of the new and improved Grounded in Philly, a one-stop online resource ecosystem for the urban agriculture and open space community in Philadelphia. Join us in One Art Community Center's beautiful outdoor garden space for music, locally-sourced food and a demonstration of the new site.

To top it all off, this year the Public Interest Law Center is looking back on 50 years of fighting for justice and preparing for 50 more. To celebrate this milestone, we are hosting a series of events throughout the year highlighting our history, our work today, and our plans for the future.
